

W BEER NOW

mping of recent new arrivals Madison-area beer shelves.
Availability may vary; call your bottle shop.

ra Nevada trifecta: Two new beers are already on yes, while a third was still out early this week from o, California. Already out one-off Beer Camp 2015 py Lager and Nooner, a ner that will be Sierra's first r-round lager. Hop Hunter made with an extraction ess purported to allow h-hop flavor year round, delayed by a temporary emark dispute raised by fel-Northern California brewer unitas. All in six-packs of ounce bottles.

points from Sixpoint: Packers fans, it's probably too soon, but the New York brewery has a new porter ed Beast Mode that's NOT an sion to Seahawks running k Marshawn Lynch. Six-packs 2-ounce cans. Also returning ie phenomenal imperial Hi-Res, in four-packs of ounce cans.

anena Fatal Attraction: An erial black IPA is the Lake s brewery's newest beer in imited Brewers Gone Wild es. Four-packs of 12-ounce tles.

lory Hop Ranch: A seasonal erial IPA from the Philadel-a area makes its Wisconsin ut. Four-packs.

Wisconsin shelves and out 50 percent higher
m Bell's Two Hearted. me, even with my lavish te Journal beer expense ount (did you pick up sarcasm there?), that's bably the difference ween Sculpin being all-the-time IPA and a ecial treat.

Speaking of special ats, Ballast Point makes o variants of Sculpin it garner even more buzz ong beer fans than the ular beer. Those beers, de with grapefruit and bañero peppers, are pected to make their way Wisconsin in limited antities later this year.

Bottom line: 4 stars it of five)

a beer you'd like the ir Baron to pop the cap Contact Chris Drosner
cdrosner@madison.com ollow him on Twitter @ lbeerbaron.

CORN FARMERS

Wisconsin farmers grow 9% of the nation's corn crop. If you grew and sold Syngenta MIR 162 or your corn was cross-contaminated by it, you may have a claim to recover for lost farming profits.

National Grain Farmers Association estimates the conduct of Syngenta cost farmers upwards of $2.9 billion by putting MIR 162 on the market before obtaining export approval from China. In 2014 China returned over 600,000 tons of corn claiming it did not meet Chinese standards for genetically modified corn. This resulted in a glut of the American corn market bringing prices for all farmers down. Midwest farmers as well as Cargill and ADM are suing Syngenta for their conduct.

The law firms of Watts Guerra LLP of Texas and Habush Habush & Rottier S.C.® of Wisconsin are holding informational meetings for corn farmers at the following locations on the dates and times set out below. There is no obligation of any kind; the meeting is informational only.

Monday, January 26th

- 10:00 a.m. - Best Western Trail Lodge Hotel & Suites 3340 Mondovi Road - Eau Claire, WI
- 3:00 p.m. - La Crosse County Courthouse - First Floor, Room 1080 333 Vine Street - La Crosse, WI
- 8:00 p.m. - Country Inn Platteville 630 South Water Street - Platteville, WI

Tuesday, January 27th

- 10:00 a.m. - Habush Habush & Rottier S.C. Offices 150 E. Gilman St. #2000 - Madison, WI
- 2:30 p.m. - Comfort Suites 300 E. Main St. - Lake Geneva, WI

HABUSH HABUSH & ROTTIER S.C.®

800-822-1690 | HABUSH.COM